Millions Receive Obscene Mail

A million American boys and girls of high school and junior high school age may receive obscene literature and pictures in the mail this year, even though they neither wanted or solicited it, Postmaster Hays said today.

The Postal Inspection Service, he stated, on the basis of available facts has estimated that dealers in smut are sending such materials to children at a rate of 700,000 to 1,000,000 mailings a year.

"It is quite possible that children here in Cameron are unwittingly being carried on lists used by mail order pornography houses to solicit sales of their filthy materials," Postmaster Hays said.

The local Post Office has joined in an intensive campaign launched nationally by Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield to general has described as "a vile racket of huge proportions."

Using first class postage which protects the mail from inspection, filth peddlers send out low circulars by the hundreds of thousands, soliciting orders from youngsters for obscene movies, photographs, comic books, slides and similar material.

"It is shocking to realize," Postmaster Hays said, "that sales of such trash amount to half a billion dollars a year, by Post Office estimates."

Program Designed To Prevent Traffic Injuries, Deaths

Three departments of the Texas State Government and highway construction contractors have implemented a new program designed to reduce traffic deaths and injuries on highway maintenance and construction projects in Texas.

One of the first pre-construction conferences of its kind was conducted at Taylor, Tuesday between officials of the Texas Highway Department, the Department of Public Safety and highway contractors on an eight-mile stretch of State Highway 95 from Taylor to Granger, soon to be started.

Presiding at the conference was Highway Department Senior Resident Engineer Frank Faris of Taylor. Joining in the meeting were Lt. Bill Butler, Sgt. F. E. Boyd and Safety Officer Bill Meredith of the Department of Public Safety's district office at Austin, in which the Taylor project is located, and E. W. Giesen and Noble & Latson Construction Co., of Austin, contractors on the new job.

Both Highway Department and the Department of Public Safety have issued instructions to their various area representatives that these conferences are to be held all over Texas just before work starts on any highway project which will disrupt or change normal traffic patterns. In addition to the three involved units, press representatives and local officers are invited to attend.

The conferences are designed to provide cooperation between the highway department, law enforcement agencies, the contractors and the motoring public during construction periods.

Brad H. Smith, Director of the Governor's Highway Safety Commission said the mounting death

Health Habits Are Necessary

Nothing can live without food, suitable temperature and an appropriate amount of moisture. This applies to man, animals, fish — and plants.

It also applies to bacteria! The range of needs for bacteria is slim, but when they are present bacteria can be very prolific, millions in mere minutes.

That is why food poisoning is so much more common in warm weather — and why you need to be especially careful now about preparing food and storing it.

The main rule to remember is that bacteria which are apt to cause food poisoning thrive best in lukewarm foods.

Thus if you make it a hard-fast habit to keep hot foods hot and cold food cold, the chances of bacteria getting a foothold are slim.

However, there are certain foods that have proven to be more susceptible to bacteria's growth and the resulting food poisoning conditions.

For instance, egg and milk mixtures, including custards and meats either in salads or sandwiches, and potato salad — one of the popular picnic foods — are often quickly suspected when food infections occur in summer.

Making sandwiches and wrapping them in wax paper to let stand for hours before eating is just asking for trouble. So keep them well refrigerated.

Potato salad can give lots of trouble. The best way to avoid it is to chill all the ingredients before mixing and then store the salad in shallow containers in the refrigerator. Deep bowls retain the room temperatures in the center portions.

Everyone loves a picnic. Enjoy them, but a portable ice box and a thermos bottle are musts if you are going to minimize the chance of summer food poisonings.

Cookies To Make Again And Again

After a session of gardening, for picnic fare, or for an afternoon snack on the porch, these chocolate chip and peanut cookies are ideal. The chocolate chips are nuggets of rich delight, the nuts crisply delightful.

For the hungry child or teen-ager, or their elders for that matter, we suggest instant chocolate-flavor mix as an accompaniment to these cookies. Just pour the mix into the glass from the little metal spout on the package, then fill to the brim with cold sweet milk.

Chocolate Chip Peanut Cookies

1½ cups sifted flour
½ teaspoon double-acting baking powder
¾ teaspoon soda
½ teaspoon salt
½ cup shortening

1 cup firmly packed brown sugar
1 egg, unbeaten
¼ cup milk
¾ cup chopped peanuts
1 cup chocolate chips
1 teaspoon vanilla

Sift flour once, measure, add baking powder, soda, and salt, and sift again. Cream shortening; add sugar gradually and cream together until light and fluffy. Add egg and beat well. Add flour, alternately with milk, mixing well after each addition. Then add peanuts, chocolate chips, and vanilla. Drop from teaspoon onto greased baking sheet. Bake in moderate oven (375° F.) 10 to 12 minutes. Makes about 5 dozen cookies.

Outdoors In Texas:

Texas Coast Ideal Place For Vacation, Fishing

By Vern Sanford

All of us have a tendency to go a distant spot to fish. When we get in our boats we rush across to the other side of the lake, knowing full well that fishing might be just as good right where we put in.

The same is true when we head for the coast, we seem to think that the farther away we go, the better fishing will be. Certainly I would not want to take anything away from the southern tip of Texas, or for that matter, from the mouth of the Sabine.

In fact I go there myself and enjoy every minute of it. On the other hand, I had occasion recently to take a comparatively short drive from my Austin home, so I did a little fishing on Copano Bay. We put in first at Glenn's bait house at the south end of the bridge near Bayside.

Next day we joined with Pat

Autrey, who also runs a motel at Bayside. At Glenn's we fished with J. D. Derrough, who has been working those waters for a number of years. He knows where all the reefs are, and what hits around them.

He took us out to some of these reefs, at night, to fish by one of the flares from an oil well out in Copano. On this particular night the flare had been extinguished. But when the flare is burning, dozens of boats go there every night and load up on trout.

J. D. is a bait fisherman. He doesn't care particularly for live shrimp, and says he has much better luck with frozen bait. Personally, we like a good live, frisky shrimp, but after all, we can't catch them as well as he can, so perhaps he has a point. One thing for sure, he's there where he can have all of either kind he needs, and he prefers 'em frozen.

From Autrey's place we took a look at the new bird island sanctuary planned by the Copano Club, headed by Dr. J. D. Bauer of Refugio. There we saw hundreds of shore birds making their summer homes. We saw eggs, baby birds and grandparents, there were big roseate spoonbills, egrets and herons by the hundreds.

They were nesting in the scrub oak trees that cover this shell island. They brought in food for the baby birds from the surrounding wet lands.

This island, built of shell and thick with brush, is at the mouth of Mission Bay. The area is a wonderful spot for red fish. We caught several small ones and saw a number of large ones. Both Derrough and Autrey say that real red fishing period in Mission Bay begins in October. Anyway, they've sold me and I plan to get back there in October.

There are other nearby spots on the Texas coast which also have been overlooked by many fishermen. They include Bay City, Palacios, Port Lavaca and Port Aransas. Incidentally, Port Aransas now has another modern motel. It is the Paradise Isle, managed by W. C. Price, who formerly lived in Dallas. It is modern in every respect, with refrigerated air conditioning, TV and a radio with a marine band so you can listen to boatmen talking to one another.

Such places as the Paradise Isle Motel are badly needed all along the coast. For many years accommodations on the coast were geared to fishermen only. Groups of men didn't spend too much time in their cabins. They weren't particularly interested in comfort.

Now times have changed. Families go to the coast today and trail their own boats. They want a swimming pool for the kiddies as well as comfortable rooms and good eating places.

They launch their own boats, with a pair of 35 horsepower motors and the whole family goes fishing or boat riding. Some of these boat owners don't fish. They like to ride around and look at the islands and the birds, or just lieisurely play around.

As a result, business has picked up even for the commercial boatmen, who find they still have about all the customers they can care for.

Right now most of the fishing on the coast is for kings, mackerel and trout. Of course, there are those who want the fighting bill fish or the big tarpon.

If you are just looking for tonnage, then go out for snapper. Raymond Muchowich, who operates the Party Boats at Freeport, says sea fishing and that every day fishermen going out from Freeport come in with huge loads of red snapper and quite a few ling.

more thrills and make you as tired as you've ever been in your life. You hook that big snapper down on the bottom, at about 150 feet. Then you hoist him to the top and over the side of the boat. By the time you've landed your third one you feel you have had enough punishing — but you can't quit. It's hard work — but it's fun, too.

Party boats leave the docks at 2 a.m. Some of the fishermen sleep on the way out. They are fortunate because they don't get quite so tired. Those who stay awake enroute to the banks and then catch a tub full of fish, usually are very quiet when the boat starts back in about noon. They are plenty tired and usually are ready to "hit the sack."

WATER SAFETY

The Texas Farm and Ranch Safety Council urges rural residents to include water safety in their family and community programs. Drownings, point out the Council, are increasing in number and only those who participate in water sports can cut the toll. Are you doing your part?

HOG PRICE OUTLOOK

The present price outlook for hogs does not warrant the dispersal of commercial breeding herds as has been done in the past by many Texas producers when similar price situations have been faced. But, it does mean, say extension specialists at Texas A&M College, that every practice which will increase efficiency of production must be put to use.

Cadillac

As every experienced Cadillac owner knows, the Cadillac car represents an extraordinary value. Its initial price includes a host of features that cost extra on most other cars... its sturdiness and dependability assure great savings in maintenance and operation... and after years of service, it traditionally returns a higher percentage of its owner's investment. The chances are excellent that a Cadillac is well within your reach this very day!

TELEPHONE TALK

WE'RE MOVING

The Telephone Business Office will move to our New Dial Building, August 1, 1959. The new address is 302 W. 1st. Effective Monday August 3rd, all telephone business matters including the payment of bills will be accepted at the new location.

The office hours will be the same as at present, 8:00 A. M. to 5:00 P. M., Monday thru Friday, closed Saturdays. When the office is closed, bills may be paid at the night depository near the front door.

A new service has been added for the convenience of our customers. Free parking will be available to the west of the new building. We invite you to use this service when visiting our office. We welcome you to visit our new business office and we'll be looking forward to seeing you.

VACATIONS AND TELEPHONES

When you think vacation, about this time of year, you probably think of fishing, swimming, visiting, or just plain relaxing at some nice vacation spot. Well, I'm happy to say that more and more people are using the telephone to have more fun on their vacation trips.

Here's how it works (and you can do the same if you're one of the lucky people still looking forward to a vacation):

First, call ahead to reserve your accommodations, or to let the family know when you'll arrive.

Next, call ahead to make overnight reservations along the highway. This way, you can drive longer and still be sure of a place to stay.

I think you'll find that this "calling-ahead habit" will help you and your family have an even better vacation.

Why not give it a try? And remember, call station-to-station — it's about one-third cheaper.

TEN RINGS

With backyard barbecues so popular nowadays, people are spending more and more time outdoors. So when you call your friends, remember it may be quite a run from the backyard to the telephone.

Give them time to make the dash by letting the telephone ring ten times.

Who knows? They may ask you over, too, for some of those hamburgers on the grill!

Call by number. It's twice as fast.

Jerry Hopkins Is New Football Coach At YHS

Jerry Hopkins, 25, has been hired by the Cameron School district to replace Murphy Webster as backfield football coach for Yoe High School.

Hopkins graduated from the San Saba High School and attended San Angelo Jr. College. At San Angelo, Hopkins lettered both years in football and basketball.

On completion of San Angelo Jr. College he attended Southwest State Teachers College in San Marcos for two years.

He coached a semester at a junior high school in San Antonio before moving to 3 A class in Lakeview school district where he was positioned as backfield and basketball coach for three years.

As basketball coach, he will replace Bill Kruger, who resigned recently for a San Marcos position.

Murphy Webster, backfield coach for three years here, accepted a similar position in Irving, Texas. In moving to Irving, Webster will rejoin former Cameron head football coach Leo Jackson. Jackson is athletic director of Irving's public schools.

Head Coach Jim Speer is the only Cameron mainstay and he still has to find another coach for the C team and possible another A and B team assistant.

Speer and Webster came to Cameron together in 1956. Webster was C team and backfield coach.

The next year Billy Joe Michalka took over the C team leaving Webster as full time backfield coach. Michalka resigned earlier this summer to accept a position in Devine.

Kruger handled the basketballers for a year and a half, also serving as B team coach. He will be the fulltime San Marcos basketball coach.

Hopkins, married and has two children, will reside in Cameron.

Mr. Melvin Clark and children of Houston spent the week visiting his aunt, Mrs. Annie Richards.

Mrs. Jean Louder and daughter of Amarillo spent the week end with Mrs. D. D. Harris. Mrs. Lester and family also visited Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Price of Austin.

Mr. Joe Richardson of Austin visited his brother Mr. Andy Richardson.

When looking over the coaching record of Jerry Hopkins earlier, this record it was noted that he had as much coaching experience as some men who have several years or more coaching under their belts than he has.

Graduating from two Jr. Colleges and lettering in basketball and football he should have enough know-how to handle the Yoemen.

He also coached in San Antonio and Lakeview. He's at the ripe age of 25.

In Cuba... Chaos...

A philosophy of economics has burst the bubbly fiasco of Fidel Castro into Cuban chaos.

Bearded Fidel's agrarian reform movement has wrought charges of Communist intrigue, finally shaping in the public mind a clearer picture of his idealism.

It culminated in a televised firing of his president, Manuel Urrutia, who he charged with "near treason." And the former commander of the Cuban Air Force has appeared before a U. S. congressional committee, testifying to Communist leanings of the revolutionary regime.

The 33-year-old Castro seems to find political power and jurisdiction in wrestling land from its Cuban owners for division among the people.

His explosive indecisiveness threatens not only his own regime, but the past peaceful atmosphere of American-Cuban relations.

While trying to cover his inferiority complex with imperialist ravings, he rams blatant Communism down the throat of Cuba, first for political expediency and then for idealistic dynamite. All these things he does without any recognizable understanding of where he is taking Cuba.

His hope for continued control of Cuba will depend on the same measures long used by dictators... fear and flag waving.

If he is Communist (which he denies) why not identify his status? If he is not Communist, why are so many fellow travelers in his key government posts?

The Federal Behemoth...

While much is said about the modern "Triple Entente" of U. S. economics, the largest by far is the interest field of federal government.

Multiple collisions of business and labor interests gather in the headlines, but Uncle Sam still has an almost uncontested control of every phase of our economy.

To quote a former director of the Bureau of the U. S. Budget, "(The federal government) is, among other things, the largest electric power producer in the country, the largest insurer, the largest lender and the largest borrower, the largest landlord and largest tenant, the largest holder of grazing land, the largest holder of timberland, the largest owner of grain, the largest warehouse operator, the largest shopowner and the largest truck-fleet operator."

If we could get the same developmental information from bureaucratic Washington as we can when free enterprise airs its economic problems, we would find fewer people voting for give aways and give away experts.

Headlines blaze the minutia of steel-labor talks as they occur. But closed-door committee hearings and swaths of red tape mute the public's understanding of U. S. economic decisions. What we learn is after the action, not during.

And that is why Uncle Sam is the biggest everything. And that is why the national debt is $5500 per family in 1959 (compared to $540 per family in 1930), why in 1959 Sen. Harry Byrd predicted "nearly 40 million Americans will receive direct payments from the federal treasury."

If this estimate is correct, nearly one-quarter of America is drawing sustenance from the U. S. at this minute.

We would judge from this estimate that one-quarter of the U. S. leans heavily toward socialism while a large proportion of the rest look with envy at those on government payroll.

Still we are entering the greatest economic boom in the nation's history. Or is it the greatest boom in national hysteria?

Complexity of big business, big government and big unionism makes it difficult to fathom their problems from a bystander's viewpoint. We would join the thousands of voices which cry out for a better understanding of the biggest business of all... our government.

The Little River Philosopher

Thinks Poland's Farmers Using Horses
May Not Be As Dumb As You Think

Dear editor:

Not knowing much for sure about farming in this country, I couldn't be expected to know anything about farming in Poland, but I read an article last night about a situation over there that attracted my attention.

As I understand it, the Communists over there are trying to get the Polish farmers to get rid of their horses. There are 2,700,000 horses. There are 2,700,000 horses in Poland, they graze over 5,000, 3,990,000 tons of grain a year.

The Communists are saying it takes too much grain to feed those horses, last year they ate more grain than all the city-dwellers in Poland got, and the thing to do is get rid of them, switch to government-owned tractors.

The Polish farmers though are resisting. They don't have to be told that while a tractor doesn't eat grain, it does consume gasoline, and very few farms in Poland produce gasoline.

Them Poles ain't so dumb. When it comes to a choice of feeding grain to horses or to Communists, they favor the horses.

I never have sat down and figured it up. I don't mind sitting down, it's the figuring that gets me, but maybe you could tell me: how much production does a tractor consume. In Poland they figure it takes 15 per cent of the land to support the tractor it takes to work it? I know a man can work a lot more land with a tractor, but you can't raise a tractor, you have to buy it and if somebody stopped and figured out how much production it takes to buy a tractor, maintain it, keep it in gasoline and oil, replace it when it wears out, he might come up with some interesting figures.

Understand I'm not planning on going back to horse farming, a tractor that won't start is bad but a mule that won't be worse, yet I have a great deal of sympathy with those Polish farmers. It's not how much grain you raise that counts, it's how much you have left over for yourself, to eat or sell, and if they come out better with horses, that's their business. Personally, I never have seen the horse I wouldn't rather feed than a Communist.

Your faithfully,
J. A.

Capital Report:

Governor Calls Fourth Session

By Vern Sanford

AUSTIN—Texas' 56th Legislature fizzled to the end of its third session and 180th day with its main job — providing money to run state government — still undone.

Gov. Price Daniel called a fourth session to begin just hours after the last one ended.

House members repeatedly voted down tax bills presented by joint conference committees of senators and representatives. Senate voted favorably each time.

First house rejection was by a vote of 81-to-64. This was on a bill to tax tobacco, natural gas production, corporation franchises, utilities, motor vehicles, liquor, wine, boats, motors, airplanes, radios, TVs, phonographs, cameras and liquor by the drink in private clubs.

Speaker Waggoner Carr named a new conference group composed of members who had voted against the bill. They met with the same Senate conferees that had worked twice before.

Only change in the new report was that the private club tax was cut out and the radio and TV tax slightly increased.

House rejected it again, this time 83-to-66.

More conferences and more votes followed in the final frantic hours. All futile! None made any apparent progress toward compromising the basic bone of contention, whether to tax gas pipelines. House favors this "severance beneficiary" tax by a narrow margin. Senate is flatly against.

Along with his new call, Governor Daniel issued a sober warning. Unless a tax bill is passed and effective (requiring a two-thirds favorable vote) by Aug. 15, there won't be time or money to get Sept. 1 checks to 225,000 old age pensioners.

Carr Foes Back Down

During the tense, shorttempered days in the wind-up of the last session, Speaker Waggoner Carr was, for a time, the target for pent-up frustrations and pressure.

Carr had worked to get the House to accept the Senate-passed tax bill. When the House turned the bill down, Carr said that "obstructionists" had defeated it.

This was a red flag to members already sensitive to public criticism of a "do-nothing" Legislature. For several days they simmered. They accused Carr of trying to thwart the will of a House majority, talked of voting him out of the Speakership.

In a dramatic showdown, Carr stepped down from the rostrum & challenged his critics to remove him if they thought it would make things better.

Nobody accepted his dare. A few minutes later, on motion of Rep. Joe Burkett, the man Carr defeated for the speakership, Carr was escorted back to the speaker's chair.

And the wearying legislative battle began again.

Student Fee Bill Okayed

A bill to require state college students to pay an activity fee passed both houses by very narrow margin.

Measure would allow the colleges to charge students up to $30 a semester to support health services, book rentals, cultural and athletic events, campus publications, parking, etc.

Any college may exempt from the fee up to 10 per cent of its enrollment in cases where the charge would cause "undue financial hardship."

Bill was hard-fought. Opponents declared it would make "free public education" available only to the rich. Backers said the colleges had to have more money. It was estimated the bill could bring in as much as an extra $1,000,000 a year.

Wait, Young Lovers

Governor Daniel's expected signature on a newly passed bill will put a damper down on the elopement plans of Texas teen-agers.

It will require boys under 21 and girls under 18 to wait three days after obtaining a license to get married. Also, to get the license, the youngsters must be accompanied by parents or guardians.

Some lawmakers said it would mean more running across the state line to marry. However, Oklahoma recently passed a similar law.

'Bill Of Rights' Replicas Offered Cameron Schools

Replicas of the Bill of Rights" in its original form are being offered to the Cameron schools by Minnie Stedman Insurance Agency for classroom use. The beautiful quill work of the scribe has been restored to a state of high legibility so that it appears as when it became the "Basic Law" of our country back in 1789.

It was learned that the documents are now being used extensively throughout the school systems of the nation and have been made available to the teachers and students as a teaching aid. The documents, 24 inches by 36 inches size on parchment, will become available for the next school semester.

Conservationist Reports:

Dirt Work Finished On Dam In Watershed Program

Dirt Work on dam number 33 the first flood retarding structure to be constructed in the Brushy Creek watershed program has been completed. Work on the draw down tube is expected to be completed by August 1. When the pool above the structure is full to the level of the draw down tube the lake above the dam will cover 15 surface acres. The detention pool above the level of the draw down tube will hold back another 40 surface acres of water this structure is located on the Alvin Brinkmeyer farm in the Noack Community located four miles southwest of Thrall.

Contracts have been let and construction is well underway on a total of seven dams all in upper Brushy. Sixty per cent of the dirt work has been completed on an additional 14 dams making a total of 21 dams that have been cleared for construction of the 58 dams that have been planned for construction on the entire Brushy Creek watershed.

Present plans of the Brushy Creek Water Control Improvement District are to have contracts let for construction on 21 dams by July 1, 1960, and on 10 additional dams by July 1, 1961.

It is expected that detail survey work on the channel improvement program will get underway in 1960. This does not mean that construction on the channel improvement will begin in 1960, but only that the surveys for the plans and specifications will probably get underway sometime during 1960.

Present indications are that after detail plans and specifications have been drawn up on the channel improvement work and easements have been secured that contracts for this work will be let in five mile segments starting at the mouth of Brushy and working upstream progressively. At this time it is not known just when construction on the channel improvement work will be started.

The Brushy Creek watershed program consists of a three phase program as follows: construction of 58 flood retarding structures, approximately 42 miles of channel improvement work on lower Brushy and Turkey creeks and conservation land treatment on the entire watershed.

In the small watershed program such as has been planned for Brushy, conservation treatment of the land plays an equally important part in the overall flood retarding program.

Milam Grain Co. Has Capacity Of 375,000 Pounds Per Hour

Milam Grain Co., 201 Cedar St., has recently opened for the 1959 maize season. 600 pounds per hour, he points out.

375,000 Pounds An Hour

Combined unloading facilities of the Milam Grain Co. is able to handle 375,000 pounds an hour compared to 75,000 pounds an hour in 1957.

Additional storage space also is available after expansion work in the storage buildings to hold 200 cars of maize.

"We have additional storage facilities elsewhere when the maize harvest starts," the Milam Grain Company manager notes.

On Any Occasion

Say It With Flowers By Glass

After 27 years in the wholesale and retail business, there is little doubt that "when you say it with flowers in Cameron and Rosebud, Glass the Florist says it best." In fact two generations of Glass, the Florists, make floral service and selection a pleasure and delight regardless of the occasion.

Co-owners Mr. and Mrs. Lester Glass and son, Donald Glass, present an array of flowers for that special occasion that makes a remembrance from Glass, the Florist something really special.

Donald Glass points out that potted plants, sprays, corsages, bouquets, cut flowers and any other floral requirement are available in a spectrum of selections.

Greenhouse Fresh

He emphasizes that flowers by Glass are greenhouse fresh to their customers. Glass, the Florist grows most of their flowers in their own local greenhouses.

Freshly picked, the flowers are beautifully arranged by the skilled floral decorators at Glass the Florist. And they are delivered in fast efficient manner by one of five trucks working in Cameron and a truck in Rosebud, he points out.

"We consider the floral occasion in recommending types of flowers and their arrangements to our customers. We strive for the personal touch that flowers convey when they are given as a gift or special remembrance."

Glass's floral arrangements for funerals are done with dignity and grace befitting the need, Glass says. And equal care is devoted to flower and scenic arrangements for weddings and parties.

Moisture Meter Preserves Fiber

COLLEGE STATION—A moisture meter can be used in the gin, on the gin yard and in the field as an aid to preservation of fiber quality during the cotton harvesting and ginning season, reports Fred C. Elliott, extension cotton work specialist.

Use of the moisture meter on lint slide samples in the gin will give the information needed to adjust drying, he says. The goal should be to gin cotton at five to seven per cent lint moisture for best quality preservation. Numerous tests in the USDA Ginning Laboratories show that drying to this moisture level gives a smooth sample and allows proper cleaning. Overdrying should be avoided, Elliott cautions.

At a number of gins in Texas last year, the growers made money by cooperating with the ginner in a seed cotton grouping program. Elliott says a moisture meter was used to determine the moisture content of the seed cotton in the trailers. Then, the trailers were grouped on the gin lot according to moisture and trash content or method of harvesting. This plan enables the ginner to take the time lag out of adjusting drying equipment for groups of bales and the grower receives more benefit from improvements in gin machinery, he adds.

A moisture meter can also be used in the field to avoid harvesting cotton too damp. This practice says the specialist, will be helpful this year with the anticipated increase in machine harvesting. Last year there were 1831 spindle pickers in 78 counties in Texas and 26,692 stripper harvesters in 133 counties, saving the growers $50,000,000. All indications point to a big increase in machine harvesting in 1959. Machine harvesting has brought many benefits to the cotton industry, but has also presented problems in quality preservation.

However, Elliott adds, these problems can be overcome by proper care or adjustment of machines and not operating too early or late in the day in damp or wet cotton. For further information, obtain a copy of bulletin 297, "Keep Cotton Dry, Lose and Clean" from your county agent.

Animal Health Program

Hubert McClaren, Robert Hoernann, Ass't County agent, and county Agent J. D. Moore, attended a district meeting at Temple on July 16, to hear recent legislation discussed concerning animal health programs. Net earnings from cattle lead all other farm income in Milam Co. and this program justifies our undivided attention.

First Maize Crop Harvested In July

The first 1959 Milam maize crop was harvested in Thorndale community July 13 and 14. Yields are good and the moisture content ran around 16 per cent. With continued dry weather, maize harvest will get underway throughout the county July 20 to 25th. Unless there is a possibility of the maize stalks falling, farmers are urged to let the grain dry as much as possible to facilitate storage conditions.

Late Maize Damaged

The sorghum webworm attacks the heads of grain sorghum. The sluggish caterpillars are somewhat flattened, clothed with spines and hairs and the bodies are greenish with four brown or red longitudinal stripes on the upper part. These worms were reported in damaging numbers in the Sharp community and in the Little River bottom south of Buckholts, July 14 and 15. Damage usually occurs from bloom to dough stage, for best results, apply insecticides when worms are small. Texas A&M entomologist recommends the use of 2 to 2½ quarts of Toxophene per acre or 1½ pts to 1 quart of Phosdrin per acre.

Phosdrin is a phosphorous compound and not generally stocked by local insecticide dealers. Malathion is a similar compound and will do a fair job of controlling these worms when applied at the rate of 1 quart per acre.

Infestations noted last week ran up to six worms per head. Last summer infestations ran as high as 25 to 35 worms per head. Even higher in some cases.

Mr. C. O. Angeil reports that where 1 quart of Malathion per acre was used on a heavy infestation last summer, he harvested 2,000 pounds of grain per acre. Untreated areas of the field did not produce enough grain to harvest.

Cotton and other maturing crops continue to hold up exceptionally well. Generally, high temperatures in July rapidly deteriorate crop prospects. Such has not been the case during the past two weeks. The unexpected survival can be contributed to two things. First, our under ground moisture supply was more effective than in recent years and secondly, we have had cooling winds during most of the days and most every night. These cool winds are particularly favorable to corn production as well as truck crops. The cotton insect situation is generally favorable with damaging numbers of boll weevils and boll worms reported in isolated cases. Farmers should continue to inspect their crops for possible insect damage until the crop is made.

County Agent Says: Prevent Algae In Farm Ponds

Management of farm ponds to control cat-tails, lily pads and other undesirable weeds should receive immediate attention. Also, excess algae and green moss will take over a pond if neglected. Mr. and Mrs. Harry Davis conducted a small demonstration using 8 ounces of 2, 4-D weed killer mixed with 3 gallons of kerosene oil and 1 tablespoon of detergent (soap) to kill cattails and other weeds in their farm pond. The second material Mr. and Mrs. Davis used was 1 lb of Dow-Pon to 5 gallons of water to treat similar plants. Both methods gave control but the 2, 4-D treatment gave superior results.

More recent developments include a "pellet" type of 2, 4-D weed killer that does a good job of killing all types of weeds in a farm pond. This product is much easier to use and should not offer the drift hazard of the liquid 2, 4-D.

Mr. Walter Lester of the Cameron Seed Co., and Mr. Gene Beyers, Vo-Ag teacher at Buckholts, report success with bluestone in clearing farm ponds of algae and green moss. Mr. Lester used 1 lb of bluestone in one gallon of water to spray around the edges of his farm ponds. Mr. Beyers calculated the area of each pond and used one ounce per 8,000 gal. water. There is a leaflet available at the Extension office on the use of bluestone to clear stock troughs and tanks of excess algae and moss.

4-H Sears Swine

Tour To Be Monday

Milam County 4-H Sears Swine tour will be held Monday, July 27 and will start at 8 a.m. from the county agents office in Cameron.

Feeding, breeding, managing and showing swine will be observed during the tour. Tour members are asked to bring drinking water and a sack lunch for the noon meal.

4-H members interested in entering the Texas Hybrid Grain Sorghum Contest or the Texas Hybrid Corn Contest, are asked to contact the county agents office for entry blanks.

The fertilization of ponds and control of pond weeds is most effective in spring and early summer. It is now too late in the summer for effective work of this type. Either practice during later summer will likely result in oxygen depletion and loss of fish.

Two Winners Named

At 4-H Dress Revue

Maurice McNulty, member of the Thorndale Senior 4-H Club, and Penny Graves of the Sharp 4-H Club, were judged County winners of the 4-H Club Dress Revue, Thursday night, according to Frances K. Hembree, home demonstration agent.

Maurice will represent the Senior group and Penny, the Junior group in the District Dress Revue in Stephenville, July 30.

This is the first year for the Juniors to enter in competition in District Revues.

The county revue was held in connection with a Fun Night in the Methodist Church Educational Building in Cameron. Approximately 100 people attended the Revue.

Reportable Diseases

Reportable diseases in Milam County for the week ending Saturday, July 18 were 27 strep throat, 6 measles, 3 influenza, 1 tuberculosis, and 1 serum hepatitis according to Dr. T. E. Cramp, director of the Milam County Health Department.

Short Course On

Beef Cattle To

Be Held At A&M

COLLEGE STATION—Feeding cattle to utilize Texas' abundant feed crop will get much emphasis at the annual Beef Cattle Short Course scheduled at Texas A. and M. College, August 10-12.

In addition will be the popular steer carcass contest where those attending the short course grade live animals, and after slaughter and chilling, grade the carcasses. Presentations by some of the nation's outstanding beef cattle researchers and ranchers, said Chairman John K. Riggs of Texas A. and M.'s Department of Animal Husbandry, will be program features.

The use of ultrasonics to estimate muscle development and fatness in live animals will be demonstrated by Dr. J. R. Stouffer of Cornell University. A carcass approach to beef cattle development will be discussed by Kenneth R. Fulk, executive-secretary of the American Shorthorn Association, and H. H. Stonaker, head of Colorado State University's Department of Animal Husbandry, will discuss size as a factor influencing productivity of beef cattle.

The three day event which last year had attendance from five states, Mexico and South America also will include the latest in research by animal husbandmen and geneticists of the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station, and beef cattle programs of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Also, in addition to individual presentations, there will be a group of panel discussions Tuesday afternoon, August 11, including cattle breeding and selection, feeding and nutrition, diseases and parasites, reproduction, fertility testing, artificial insemination and pregnancy determination.

Norman Moser, president of the Texas and Southwestern Cattle Raisers Association, will give "A Cattleman's View of The Industry" as principal speaker at the annual banquet to be held Monday, August 10 at 7 p.m. in the Memorial Student Center.

Help Prevent Rural Fires

Farmers and stockmen are reminded that a simple fire lane made by plowing with a disk plow might save one or more farm buildings for them, not to mention the damage done to valuable dry grass by rural fires. Cigarette smokers could help prevent grass fires by being cautious about throwing lighted cigarettes from their cars. Most cars, pick-ups and trucks come equipped with ash trays. Motorists are urged to dispose of their cigarettes by placing them in these ash trays to help prevent rural fires.

Western Justice

VERDICT: GUILTY — Legendary Judge Roy Bean was in town Friday to "try" a horse thief, amiably portrayed by Valter White, county tax assessor-collector. About 2,000 people crowded the courthouse square Friday to watch Western justice set the fate of the culprit. Above the rump court decides the issues as the prosecutor sprawls across the bench. Below, the thief literally "swings" from the big oak. (He was suspended in air through a system of parachute harness worn under his Western garb.) The lynching ended with the thief being hauled away in a wagon. Cameras whirled and kids gasped at the action.

Stage Holdup

A Wild And Woolly Week

Cameronites captured the spirit of the Old West and the fancy of all Central Texas during last week's Western Week with a smash finale in a two-mile parade, and double horse show.

The holiday hi-jinks drew a peak crowd of about 10,000 for the Friday parade following a week of mock hangings, shootings, holdups and bank burnings. Western outfits were the popular dress among even Cameron visitors and Milam County residents.

Citizens could not remember a more rousing show. It started four weeks ago with a beard growing contest and climaxed with the fifth annual Cameron Horse Show at Wilson-Ledbetter Park.

The classic traditions of the Old West required re-enactments of a stage coach robbery, a rump trial and lynching of a horse thief and a showdown gun battle. The Herald's camera was busy, indeed, recording the "misdeeds" of Cameron badmen.

Snapping his shutter like the gunslinger fannin his sixshooter, staff photographer James Hollas "shot" this record of Cameron's biggest week in years.

— F M L

REACH, PODNER — "Money" changes hands several times during the stage coach robbery that literally put the four bandits in jail. Top picture shows the law heisting the loot from one of the outlaws who had stopped the stage, lower left. Riding shotgun was Lincoln Mondrik, Cameron. The law rode in to stop the masked quartet before they could make their get away. About 1,000 Cameronites saw this early Western Week action along with a gunslinging duo, "burning" of Citizens National Bank and a dog show.

Miner, "Forty Niner"

... And A Parade

'HOWDY, FOLKS' — A variety of floats, wagons and unusual autos in the Friday parade included this wagon-load of "squatters" (left) and the Yoe High School band (right) led by Western-garbed majorettes. The Friday night event climaxed the pre-horse show activity followed by the show at Wilson-

Ledbetter Park. Officials termed it one of the longest, most interesting parade programs in Cameron's history. It required 22 minutes to pass one point in a two-mile swing through downtown Cameron. About 10,000 countians applauded the combined Cameron Chamber - Cameron Saddle Club event.

NARY A SPEC O' GOLD — Western Week was complete with a host of characterizations of classic cowboy types, including this old prospector as interpreted by Chester Hays, Cameron. Hays' portrayal was a highlight of Friday afternoon activity in the parade that included about two dozen floats, antique cars and saddle clubs. Complete with coffee pot, fry pan and donkey, Hays ambled through the mobs finding more fun than gold. His long-eared friend's name is "Smokey."
